Please attend emP.O.W.E.R’s first campus presentation to educate RIC’s campus about sexual violence, abuse, and sexual objectification in the media! emP.O.W.E.R. (Patriarchy Objectification Women Education Resistance) is a new sexual violence and domestic abuse peer education group on campus. The group’s main objective is to educate the high school and college communities about the dangers of sexual violence and abuse. Gender stereotyping and the sexual objectification of women are major contributing elements to violence against women. These elements are found heavily rooted in media, such as both in print and television advertisements. FREE ADMISSION & FREE FOOD!!

The Dana Wright Access Challenge

Wednesday, May 5, 2010
This extraordinary event was developed by RIC Alumna, Dana Wright (June 23, 1983-December 27, 2009), to educate RIC students about the experiences of individuals with physical disabilities on campus. The Advocacy and Beyond Club (ABC) is hosting this event in Dana’s memory and to continue her important mission. Participants will experience the challenges of performing daily activities without the full use of their bodies by using wheelchairs on campus for approximately five hours. They will note the difficulties they encounter, positive outcomes, public responses and lessons learned. Students taking the challenge must be available to be on campus at RIC on 5/5/10 from 12:30pm – 6:45 pm. The schedule is as follows: 12:30pm-1:00pm Orientation, 1:00pm-5:30pm (on campus) Wheelchair Use, 5:30pm – 6:00pm Wheelchair Return, and 6:00pm – 6:45pm Roundtable Dinner Discussion and Recognition Awards. The Providence Healthy Corner Store Initiative is working to help small store owners provide our neighborhoods with greater access to healthy, affordable food. To launch the initiative we’re challenging students from 3 Providence high schools to create the healthiest, tastiest meals they can using items purchased at a local corner store. The teams will be given $10 to spend at the store and then cook the meals right in front of you! The meals will be judged based on nutritional quality, the number of food groups used, taste, and presentation. Confirmed judges include Dr. David Gifford, Director of the RI Department of Health; Tom Brady, Superintendent of the Providence Public School Department; Sister Ann Keefe, St. Michael's Church; Rafael Nunez, owner of Mi Quisqueya Market; and renowned Providence chef Walter Potenza.

Join in on the fun! Show your support for Providence’s local economy and learn how to make tasty dishes with healthy, affordable foods from neighborhood corner stores!

Brought to you by the Environmental Justice League of Rhode Island, Farm Fresh RI, Kids First, the Rhode Island Department of Health, and students from Feinstein, Alvarez, Classical and the Met High Schools.
