This Academic Rhode Map is a semester-by-semester plan to help you toward graduation in four years. Not everyone graduates in four years, as it depends on how many courses you can take and how you do in those courses. This map is not your only route; it is a suggestion. You might take additional courses over the summer or early spring/winter to catch up or get ahead if the courses you need are offered at these times. While many courses in your major will have prerequisites that you will need to take in a special order, there is some flexibility in this map – but always double check that you have the correct prerequisites for a course you plan to take.

On the pages that follow, the column to the left suggests the ideal courses for you to take each semester. There are times when those courses may be full or unavailable the semester you plan to take them, in which case consider another course from a different semester with which you can switch. The column on the right has “Checkpoints” for each semester that show where you should be by the end of that semester. You should work from this map as you plan each semester’s schedule, before checking in with your advisor. The Map is designed primarily for freshmen coming to college for the first time, but transfer students may also use the Rhode Map with the understanding that they have most likely completed several requirements through transfer of credit and will be starting further into the program. Transfer students seeking RIC Art program credit for studio courses completed at another college must submit a portfolio of artwork for review; for further information, see <http://www.ric.edu/art/Pages/Transfer-Students.aspx>. Map assumes a Fall start.
