The federal graduation rate measures the percentage of entering first-time, full-time freshmen (FTFT) in the cohort year who manage to graduate within 150% of normal time. For 4-year (bachelor degree) institutions, this is also known as the 6-year-graduation rate, since 6 years is 150% of normal time for a 4-year degree.

HEADCOUNT BY LEGAL SEX

HEADCOUNT BY FEDERAL RACE/ETHNICITY GROUP

Data are represented using official federal ethnicity, race and sex categories. RIC recognizes that our students may identify outside of these ethnic and racial categories and/or outside the gender binary.

2,453 or 48% of undergraduate students who identify as people of color.

270 or 27% of graduate students who are people of color.
